

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1895.

NO. 67

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Lee Thomas, of Lexington, bought of W. B. Barton, of Buckeye, two combined horses for $400.

—Rev. T. K. Stephens, of New Jersey, will preach at the Presbyterian church, next Sunday morning.

—About 50 doctors attended the meeting here, more than have been at any meeting for a long time.

—Died in this county a few miles from Lancaster last Wednesday an infant of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner.

—E. W. Lawless, of Buckeye, sold his farm of 210 acres to Messrs. R. F. & R. L. Barton for $12,500 per acre.

—Mr. Henry Clay Jennings has rented his farm on the Sugar Creek pike about two miles from Lancaster to James Clark, of Boyle.

—Rev. C. K. Crawford, of Danville, preached at the Presbyterian church on Sunday. The subject of his discourse was "Consecration."

—Rev. L. T. Willis, of Georgetown, has just closed a protracted meeting at Mt. Hebron in Lower Garrard in which there were 40 or more additions to the church.

—The ordinance of baptism was administered Friday evening to a number of converts to the Baptist church, by the pastor, Rev. T. H. Campbell, at the pool upon Mr. Leander Davidson's farm a few miles from here.

—The young members of the Presbyterian church met Sunday afternoon for the purpose of re-organizing a Christian Endeavor Society. Mr. Farran, of Danville, a very enthusiastic worker in the society, was present.

—There was a court day dinner at Mr. R. H. Barton's new store-room Oct. 25th by the ladies of the Methodist church. As the proceeds are to go towards furniture for their new church they hope to be well patronized.

—At the exchange Saturday afternoon under the charge of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church a nice sum was realized. They will have the same every Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m. for several weeks, perhaps till Thanksgiving.

—Hon. Wright Kelley was Saturday afternoon nominated to make the race for representative from 6th ward upon the republican ticket. He represented this county in the last term of the legislature, having been a resident only four months when nominated.

—On court day, Oct. 25th, the following noted speakers will address Lancaster's citizens: Hon. George H. Alexander, of Louisville, democratic candidate for railroad commissioner; Hon. John S. Rues, of Russellville, another staunch democrat; Col. T. B. Demaree, candidate for governor on the prohibition ticket, is also invited to speak that day at 2 p. m. and Hon. John W. Yerkes, of Danville, is also expected here to speak on court day. The ladies are especially invited to be present.

—Miss Mamie Noel has returned from a visit to her aunt, Miss Lily Noel, of Danville. Mrs. A. C. Robinson has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Paxton, of Stanford. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Norris, of California, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Norris. Mrs. A. E. Pascoe left last week to visit relatives in Jessamine county. Mrs. James Burnside is in Nashville on a visit to Mr. K. O. McLean and family. Dr. A. S. Price, of Stanford, visited his mother, Mrs. H. A. Price, Sunday. Robert Salter, of Danville, was the guest of Messrs. Horace and Leslie Herndon. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stone left the first of the week for a visit to relatives in Jessamine. Braumton Beazley, now a Centre College boy, was at home on Sunday. W. A. Arnold was in Louisville last week on business. Mrs. Mattie P. Friebe has returned from a pleasant visit to W. C. Price and family, of Danville.

—The public schools in Franklin have closed on account of scarlet fever.

—Ten inches of snow had fallen at nine o'clock Sunday night at Erie, Pa.

—Fire destroyed 120 buildings at Algiers, La., including the courthouse.

—A quarter interest in the Anaconda copper mine has been sold to a London syndicate for $7,500,000.

—The Mason-Forde Company has filed suit at Frankfort against the Louisville Truth for $50,000 for libel. The plaintiff complains that the paper, in one of the letters over the signature "Omega's Shadow," published a false report that the Mason-Forde Company had bribed a State official by giving him a dividend out of the profits of the company.

A small boy, after a few weeks at school, was asked where he sat in his class.

"I always sit first," he smartly answered.

"How do you manage that when you so often go late?"

"Well when I'm late, I sit first at the other end."

If your children are subject to croup watch for the first symptom of the disease—hoarseness. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse it will prevent the attack. Even after the croupy cough has appeared the attack can always be prevented by giving this remedy. It is also invaluable for colds and whooping cough. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Stanford, Ky.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Jas. Powell last week shipped 72 shoats to Cincinnati for which he received the top of the market—44c.

—From indications there will be on the part of the voters here next November such a scratching as would make an old hen die of envy.

—Gus Sandusky, of Somerset, has rented Dr. H. Brown's blacksmith shop and has begun business. This at one time was the best location for blacksmithing in the town.

—With the double chloride of gold treatment near at hand for their physical ills and the double salvation, of Dr. Barnes, for their spiritual ailments, the old sinners of Stanford ought to be on top.

—Mr. Spraggins has opened the fall session of his "Do Nothing Class" with a largely increased attendance over last year. Some who graduated last year have entered upon a post-graduate course this fall.

—Mr. John Goode took our breath away by presenting us with a pear as big as man's head—that is, a small man's. This monster weighed a pound and one ounce and was brought to this section from Alabama. In quality it was all that could be desired.

—Rev. Sanford M. Logan, of Stanford, recently preached two very instructive and eloquent discourses at the Presbyterian church. Mr. Logan is a young man with certainly a brilliant future before him. His sermons were very greatly appreciated and highly complimented by our people.

—A petition was circulated to obtain the lawful number of signatures, asking the county clerk to place a ticket, composed of John Ellis, C. T. Griggs and J. L. Huffman, on the official ballot of the November election for town trustees of this place. Squire Ellis afterwards had his name withdrawn.

—Millard Allen has added to his lovely accommodations a glass front back and thus has brought us on to an equality with other cities of our size and importance and at the same time rendered it possible for our young men to depart a fine of single cleanliness. June Hocker has examined it and pronounced it all right.

—Mrs. Mary Bratton has disposed of her property in Kettletown, a suburb of our city, to Arch Frye, of the county, for $1,200. This house has been occupied by Sam Logan, who moves to the residence of his father on Main street. We heartily welcome Mr. Frye and his estimable family to our midst.

—Last week the Austin concluded to have his cistern cleaned and a negro boy was sent down to dip up the water. He soon came rushing up the ladder and reported the bottom of the cistern covered with snakes. Further investigation revealed the presence of some 10 water snakes of large size, which were promptly cast out and killed.

—Marshall Devers had a case of blood-poisoning from a scratch on his right hand. He was in bed on account of it for two days this week, but is now patrolling the streets again, but in a bad shape to tackle the evil doers as he is obliged to carry his hand in a sling. June Reid has succumbed to another attack of his old enemy—boils.

—Our enterprising merchant, Mr. V. B. Morse, considered that his location on the corner of the Hanging Fork was not conducive to his best interests, so he put his store-house on trucks recently and began to haul it up town. It was finally anchored in position on the vacant lot on the corner of Main street and the Danville pike. The house was moved with the entire stock of goods inside.

—Mrs. John Reid went to visit relatives at Paint Lick. The next morning after her arrival she announced at breakfast that she had dreamed the night before that some one had entered her cellar at home and stolen some of her preserves. She was laughed at, but so deep was the impression made upon her mind by the dream that she curtailed her visit, and returning home, she went into her cellar to find her dream was not all a dream, for some one had been in her preserves and had taken 32 quarts in her absence. The thief made a careful selection, taking only preserves and some of every kind she had.

—The United Brethren, a thrifty and useful benevolent organization of our colored people, are preparing to tear down the building occupied by them as a hall, opposite the National Bank. They expect to erect a new building in its stead, with a commodious store-room below and a large hall for their place of meeting on the second floor. The United Brethren nurse their sick, bury their dead and have a form of insurance by which the widows and orphans of deceased members receive assistance for a number of years after the death of the head of the family. We are glad to note this evidence of their prosperity.

—Samuel Reid went to Louisville to represent the local Masonic lodge in the councils of the grand lodge. Mrs. Mary Bradley and her son, George, are here from Alabama, and are at Mrs. John Goode's. Emmet McCormack, we are glad to say, is improving, though slowly.

Prof. Matt Thomson is in town this week and reports himself greatly pleased with his new business, life insurance. He said that Scott Thomson, who had his leg broken a few weeks since, is doing no good and fears are entertained that he will not recover, or if he does, that he will be crippled for life. Dr. Tom Bohon, whose magic pen has created a city out of a country store and pile of staves, was here last week. Arch Rae, the well-known photographer of Harrodsburg, is with us this week, making photos of our brave and fair.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—Whisky men at Pineville have put up a municipal ticket. The device is a barrel.

—Gov. Brown has appointed C. S. Porter, of Somerset, a member of the State board of Pharmacy.

—At Danville the Centre College eleven was defeated by the State College by the score of 6 to 0.

—Mrs. Barr was given $9,000 at Harrodsburg against the Louisville Southern for killing her husband.

—Hon. W. T. Tevis, of Richmond, was run over by a span of horses driven by his nephew and badly hurt.

—Judge Wm. McKee Duncan, of Louisville, a brother of Mrs. R. C. Warren, is a candidate for alderman.

—Charles Key, who killed another negro at Midway over a woman was given a life sentence at Pineville.

—Bud Thomas, a colored laborer from Mt. Sterling, was crushed to death by the derailment of a construction train at Barren.

—The football game at Richmond between Central University and Vanderbilt resulted in a shut-out for the former, Vanderbilt scoring two touchdowns and one goal.

—Pattie, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gillespie, of Somerset, died last week of diphtheria. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their friends in this county.

—James T. Bailey, a prominent merchant of Versailles, fell over a 50 foot cliff, while on a fishing trip, and was seriously injured. He is the father of Mrs. W. O. Wherritt at Lancaster.

—Silas Browning shot and killed Stephen Green near Pineville. Browning had accused Green of stealing his pocket book and the latter was throwing rocks at and abusing Browning, when he did the shooting.

—Two hinkies in Judge Santley's court at Harrodsburg, Abe Bonta and Charles Robinson, "fat out and fit." Bonta is an aged man and Robinson is in the prime of life. The judge promptly fined Robinson, who started the row, $5 and ordered the sheriff to collect at once or take him to the work house. The fine was paid.

TEACHERS' MEETING AT HUSTONVILLE.

—The following is the program of the Teachers' Association to meet at the Christian church, Hustonville, at 10 A. M., Oct. 26.

After music and prayer the address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. W. W. Bruce with response by Lucian Lewis.

Paper on school work, Miss West.

The responsibility of parents in a child's education, Pres. B. J. Pinkerton.

Recitation, Mabel Taylor.

Mental Arithmetic, Teachers.

Practical Physiology, Miss Alberta Carpenter.

Oration, E. B. Ritchie.

Recitation, Ada Alcorn.

Selection, Mrs. M. G. Thomson.

There will be music between each number and before the benediction.

St. Perkins.—The Fort Scott (Kan.) Monitor says a crowded house greeted the Barton Coleman Co. in "St. Perkins" last night and no one went away disappointed. Sam J. Barton as "Si" and Lillie Coleman as "Zana" the gypsy heiress, were the leading features on the stage, and the frequent applause which greeted them showed plainly how well they acted their parts and how much their efforts were appreciated. The country fair, the threatening machine and side shows and country band, in the third act, were all interesting and vividly pictured, and elicited much praise. Their music is of the highest order and the evenness and sweetness with which the tones are dispensed is vastly pleasing to the most critical ear.

At Walton's Opera House, Oct. 25th.

—A paper box factory at Atlanta was burned, causing a loss of $80,000.

—A bell which will weigh over 13 tons is being cast for St. Francis de Sales church, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

—Mike Kreiger, of Winston, Va., drank eight gallons of new apple brandy from Monday until Saturday night and died Sunday.

—Councilman Watson was waylaid and shot at while riding to his home at Mt. Sterling. His horse was killed but he escaped unhurt.

—Tod Vettito, a deputy marshal of Elizabethtown, was killed, Tod Franklin, colored, was shot and fatally wounded. Linas Warren is said to have done the shooting.

TYLER AND ALEXANDER.

Speak to a Delighted Crowd at the C. H.

Those who heard the speeches of Hon. R. T. Tyler and Geo. H. Alexander at the court-house Friday afternoon were greatly pleased. Mr. Alexander's remarks were short but to the point and showed that he knew "where he was at" and appreciated the help that Lincoln county had given him in securing the nomination for railroad commissioner. At the conclusion of his speech, Hon. R. C. Warren, who had performed a like service for Mr. Alexander, then introduced the next lieutenant governor of Kentucky in highly eulogistic words and Mr. Tyler began a speech which many say was the finest they ever heard. In the beginning he stated that he was unalterably in favor of a sound currency and construed the democratic platform to declare for it, but the question had no place in a State campaign, being purely a National one, and that a difference in opinion in the matter was no excuse for any democrat to refuse to support Gen. Hardin, who is right in everything else and worthy and well qualified for the highest office in the State. He utterly repudiated the malicious charge that there was mismanagement and corruption at Frankfort and showed how well the officials had done under the extraordinary increase of expenses growing out of the constitutional convention and the lengthy legislation necessary to conform the laws to it, while at the same time the tax rate had been reduced and the school per capita increased. He compared the States and counties which are under republican rule with those under democratic and proved by facts and figures that ours is the party of economy and good government and the only one that should be trusted. Mr. Tyler made a powerful appeal for harmony and the support of the whole ticket and after dressing down Col. Bradley to the amusement of his hearers, closed by reciting this from the Memphis Commercial Appeal, while democrats went wild with delight and doubled up with laughter:

The Hon. W. O. Bradley went into the campaign with the blood-curdling warwhoop that ever rose from Kentucky soil since the days of Daniel Boone. He went out of it with the yelp of a cur dog preceding a clattering oyster can down the stony street. For Wm. O. is not in it any more. He has tucked his tail and fled the field. He is no longer the terrible Bradley, who was advertised to eat five democrats like oysters. He is no longer a warring, rampaging Numidian lion, splitting the earth with his thunderous roar and swinging his tufted tail 10 feet in the air. He is simply Bill Bradley who flunked and threw up the sponge as soon as he had got a hot one in the ribs—still dear to Kentucky coons, but no longer a holy terror nor a wolf from Bitter Creek. Bill simply didn't come up to expectations. He had the gall, but he didn't have the grit. His jawful prowess in debate, the cyclonic ventricosity of his omnipotent lung—all those things were down on the bills, but they didn't appear in the show. That which was a Royal Bengal Tiger has shrunk to the dimensions of a harmless and very unnecessary cat. The plumed knight we had been reading about, is simply a vain glorious pretender, whose white plume is the white feather. Bill is a humbug, a scolded champion, a sheep in wolf's clothing. Henceforth his name is Ichabod and Dennis and Mr. Mud. He is the domineer of the cockpit who squawks at the first touch of the gall. He is the roughest gutter that ever went to the post with a thoroughbred and threw up his tail at the superior pole.

This is the last of Bill. He has done the one thing that Kentuckians will not forgive. He has thickened. He has turned his tail. He has abdicated in the face of the enemy. He has chewed off his trigger finger to keep out of the fight. Henceforth Bill is the thing that was. He is as dead as an pickled oyster. He is a spongy soaked reminiscence, a lagging and superfluous has-been hanging on to the ragged edge of Now. He is the bubble that rose to the surface when Bill Bradley, the terrible, went down. He is a burst bladder, a last year's bird's nest, a back number. So endeth the strange, eventful history of the Mud Moses of the Kentucky coon.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. W. P. WALTON.

The political skies seem to be brightening somewhat. Democrats are realizing what wrong they will inflict both upon the party and upon the State by sulking or bolting, and those who are not fully determined to rule or ruin are beginning to see the error of their way and fleeing from the wrath to come should the republicans be victorious. Next to a turncoat, who is the most detestable and contemptible of creatures, who deserves no recognition from God or man, comes the chronic bolter. He is always an opinionated individual and usually one with a grievance. If you have any remaining love for party or a spark of manliness do not desert the one and prove the absence of the other by giving it a stab in the darkness of the voting booth. But for the secret ballot there would be no fears of democratic success, for men who want to keep their record clear would not dare have their votes recorded for the republican ticket, nor scratch the democratic in any particular. Our only danger lies in traitors in the camp, since they can betray and never be found out. Don't prove a Judas or a Janus, but go to the polls like a man and by stamping under the rooster vote the whole democratic ticket, which is composed of as good men, to say the very least, and of better, not to say too much, than the republican lay out. Let old Lincoln join the democratic hosts from all over the State in putting her seal of condemnation on the arrogance and insolence of a treacherous and untrustworthy foe, and help roll up such a majority as will put to everlasting death the party which is now making a death struggle to get the offices and hold high carnival on the ruins of a prosperous State.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S autobiography just issued has created quite a sensation, since it deals largely in matters of a most interesting nature. He does not hesitate to criticize many of his eminent colleagues in his own party nor to express his opinion of the schemes of Garfield and others which kept him out of the presidency, charging almost in direct language that Garfield went to the convention pledged to him, turned traitor and sought the nomination himself. As the Senator has been in public service since 1855, having served six years in Congress, four as secretary of the treasury and 30 years in the Senate, he is better fitted than most men to give an insight to public and political matters and his contribution to their history makes very entertaining reading.

EDITOR BLAKELY, of the Covington Commonwealth, and Business Manager Gleason, who reported the conversation to him, are in the toils of the circuit court of Kenton for contempt, for publishing that a grand juror had said that there was nothing in the resubmission of the Goebel murder case and that no indictment would be found. It strikes us that the juror is the one guilty of contempt. He was under oath to keep the secrets of the jury room inviolate. When he disclosed them of his own free will and accord, the information he gave was a legitimate subject for publication. The judge withheld his decision, but it is bound to be in favor of the newspaper men, if justice doesn't take off its blinkers in the premises.

THE Covington Commonwealth denies the allegation which we made against its party loyalty by reason of hasty reading and denies the allegation to show that he ever boasted that he and the 2,000 democrats who didn't register will get in their work, other than upon the democratic ticket. We might have known that Editor Blakely was too good a man to scratch a democratic ticket and hereby and hereon make the amende honorable.

THE Columbia Spectator has reached and passed its 25th birthday. That's a pretty long time for a country paper to exist and it is proof positive of the survival of the fittest. Not one paper in 500 lives so long and the Spectator would have long since ceased to behold had it not been one of the best in Kentucky. Paradoxical as it may appear this is not strange, although the able brothers who edit it are very strange themselves.

SPENCER county democrats nominated by primary Saturday a McCreary man for the Legislature, R. V. Norton, who defeated the Blackburn entry by a good majority. This makes a clear majority of 10 for sound money and seems to insure Gov. McCreary's election to the Senate beyond peradventure.

THE Elizabethtown News is authority for the statement that on promise of its support, Col. Bradley took the oath and joined that proscriptive A. P. A. band at Louisville. If this be true and the paper defies the colonel to deny it, what indeed will not some men give in exchange for a vote? As much almost as his own soul.

STRIKES are costly experiments. In the last 13 years the Commissioner of Labor estimates that the loss from strikes and lockouts to employers at $94,825,837 and to employees at more than twice as much—$190,439,382.

THE organ for the colored republicans at Louisville has come out for Pettit, but if it thinks it can make any of its patrons vote anything but the republican ticket, the editor is gnawing a flea. His race always go like dumb driven cattle to the shambles and vote as their white masters dictate.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

THE railroad company is having its depots here beautified by new coats of paint.

St. PERKINS, the greatest of rural comedies, will be with us on the 25th. The street parade is immense.

If our suggestion for prayers for rain has been acted upon, it has not availed. Water was never so scarce and the ground was hardly ever dryer. Wheat will have to be sowed in the dust if the ground can be plowed.

It was a novel sight to the white people who attended Prof. Tardiff's school entertainment to see a young colored boy declaim "Spartacus to the Gladiators" in such a correct and easy manner. His name is Will Hocker and his performance was a real wonder.

At least four of the men who offered themselves for democratic preferment at last year's primary will vote the republican ticket this year, showing that they have no principles above a desire for revenue, and having failed in that desire they have gone over body and soul to the enemy. Let them go. Such men are not worth hell room to any party. Even their new found friends must hold them in contempt.

Circuit Court will begin next Monday and James P. Bailey, clerk, tells us that there are 70 Commonwealth cases on the docket, 124 old equity, 33 old ordinary, 35 equity appearances and 51 ordinary appearances. There are two murder cases, Centres for killing Moatray and Marshal Frank Ellis, of Junction City, for the murder of young Murphy, the latter by change of venue. There are five divorce suits, two white and three colored couples.

THERE will be two tickets for Councilmen in Stanford, but Mayor J. N. Menefee will have no opposition for re-election as his name heads both tickets. The People's ticket, which will appear under the device of a pair of scales, is composed of J. J. McRoberts, J. H. Banghman, B. K. Weizen, Dr. W. B. O'Bannon, Wm. Daugherty and Lee F. Stone. The Citizens' ticket will be under a horse shoe and W. L. Withers, John M. Hall, J. B. Mershon, T. D. Raney, D. W. Vandaveer and J. C. Florence will compose it.

SEVERE DEATH.—Mrs. A. A. McKinney, who went to Greensburg Thursday to see her sons, telegraphed Sunday that Earle Courts had just died of diphtheria, after an illness of only five days, and that Louis, her other son, was at the point of death with the same disease. Mr. McKinney received a letter from her yesterday saying that Louis was still at most in a hopeless condition. Earle was a handsome, manly looking boy of splendid manners and was the pride of his mother, for whom great sympathy is felt. He was a little over 16 and being bright and studious a life of promise seemed opening before him. But man proposes and God disposes. Blessed is he who can say "Not my will, but thine oh Lord, be done."

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Elder Masters closed his meeting at Mt. Carmel, Laurel county, with 29 additions.—Corbin Enterprise.

—Bishop A. G. Haygood, of the Methodist Church, South, sustained a stroke of paralysis while at his home in Oxford, Ga., Thursday and cannot recover.

—Rev. J. I. Willis writes us that his meeting at Mt. Lebanon closed Monday with 59 additions to the church, 40 of whom he baptized.—Richmond Register.

—We are requested to announce that the Ladies' Christian Aid Society of Rush Branch church will meet at Mrs. Sarah Eubanks', Thursday afternoon next.

—The Walnut Flat church is already arranging for its Thanksgiving service. It will be conducted by Miss Nannie Caldwell and the program will be a most entertaining one.

—The revival at the Methodist (colored) church, that has been going on for 29 years has closed for a week to give the Recording Angel a chance to get his checkbook posted.—Hawesville Plain Dealer.

—Bro. Earnes threw a firebrand into the camp of the sanctificationists. He does not accept the dogma. He thinks that those who profess to live without sin deceive themselves and if as good a man as Bro. Barnes has to confess to an occasional sin, the rest of us poor mortals are in a bad way.

—The Christian church Sunday by a practically unanimous vote decided to call Rev. J. T. Sherrard, of Paris, and he will likely accept, beginning Dec. 1. The only votes against were by those who thought it best not to employ a pastor at present. There was some objection to the women voting but they showed that they were up to date by carrying their point. Mr. Sherrard is a middle-aged man, unmarried and is said to be a fine preacher.

—Rev. George Gowan, who was here en route to the county meeting at Hustonville, said he had a letter from Rev. W. E. Ellis telling him about his visit to the State Association at Chattanooga with his wife, which he made at the expense of his church and of its offer to pay all the expenses of him and Mrs. Ellis to the Convention in Texas. He is well fixed and the people are exceedingly kind and attentive. It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The loss of the church here is evidently Mr. Ellis' gain.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Gloss Smith, age 79, and Violet Smith, age 74, were married at Ruthton, in Madison county.

—Frank Adams and Miss Louisa Paris were married at Mr. George Paris' at Crab Orchard Sunday.

—Mrs. Thomas Price, who had been married just a week, attempted suicide at Sebree, this State, by taking morphine. Doctors saved her but did not succeed in making her tell why she had attempted to take her life.

—Miss Mamie Brewer, daughter of Mrs. Nannie Brewer, of Danville, formerly of Stanford, was married Thursday to J. McKenzie Moss, a young lawyer of Bowling Green, by President Cabell, of Potter College. It was a swell affair in every particular. Among the guests were Hon. James A. McKenzie, United States Minister to Peru, an uncle of Mr. Moss, and Miss Letitia Stevenson, daughter of the vice president and a cousin of the groom. The bride is said to have been the prettiest girl in Danville which is noted for pretty girls and her picture in the Louisville Times shows it. Miss Brewer met the man who now bears so close a relationship to her at a reception at Potter College. Mr. Moss was rather diffident and was standing off by himself looking sad and forlorn. The little beauty pitied him and accosted him with: "You look like a wall, let me take you in charge." He readily assented, Cupid at once began to get in his work and love did the rest.

—The marriage of Mr. Samuel W. Duncan, of Dallas, Texas, to Miss Susie Bain Newland, daughter of Sheriff T. D. Newland, will occur at 10:30 this morning, Rev. A. V. Sizemore officiating, and after lunch the newly wedded pair will leave on the 12:37 train for their future home in the Lone Star State, where Mr. Duncan is engaged in a prosperous business. He is a native of Wayne county, this State, but has made his home in Texas for the last six years. The two have been lovers for a long time, but they have done their love-making principally on paper, usually a very unsatisfactory way of courting. The bride-elect is a sweet-faced young lady, gentle of manners and highly accomplished, and Mr. Duncan is a most fortunate man to have won her at such long range over beaux who could press their suits by personal appeal. May all the joys of life be ever theirs in the wish of the INTERIOR JOURNAL and a host of friends.

Fox Daddar sold to his brother, Zim Daddar, three shares of Farmers Bank and Trust Co. stock at $110.

Gen. HARBOIS spoke at Danville yesterday to immense throng, made up in good part of people from this county.

The street parade of the St. Perkins Co. is immense. Come in Friday 25th and see it. Then you will be sure to attend the amusing performance at night.

Fire got started on the fence of Mr. D. W. Vandever in the town limits yesterday in some way and before it could be extinguished 100 panels or more were burned. Water had to be hauled from Main street to use on it.

DIPHTHERIA.—Mr. T. J. Hatcher says that rosin and tar made in a poultice and applied to the neck, with a gargle of strong red pepper tea, followed by alum water will cure the worst case of diphtheria ever seen, and he says he speaks from experience.

SWITCH.—J. H. Baughman & Co. are excavating for a switch to their mill. A hill of some height has to go into a fill several hundred feet away which will make it cost $500 or more. The railroad company will of course put down the ties and iron.

DANGEROUSLY HURT.—A horse fell with Owsley, the 13-year-old son of Deputy Sheriff O. P. Newland yesterday morning and crushed the little fellow's skull so that it is thought that he can not recover. Physicians were summoned from here and all that can be done for the little sufferer is being performed.

Lost.—Gold watch on Crab Orchard pike near Rowland. Liberal reward. Mrs. Ada Cregar, Rowland.

We are selling out our stock of men's clothing at reduced prices. If you want a suit now it's the time to get one. W. H. Shanks.

Sparks from a C. S. train set fire to and burned five stacks of hay and 50 acres of grass belonging to W. J. Carson of the West End.

Nothing better for a wedding present than one of our lovely Onyx tables, topped off by a beautiful silk shade banquet lamp. Danks, the jeweler.

PERFUMERY, cologne, bay rum, Florida water. Extracts for the handkerchief. Our stock comprises all of the popular odors. Craig & Hooker.

The Corbin Enterprise says that James Wilson, of that place, whom we reported killed by a train at Middleboro, was not seriously hurt and is nearly able to be on duty again.

FLAMING posters announce that Col. W. O. Bradley, Hon. Augustine E. Wilson and other republicans will speak here next Thursday from a special train, but no time is given.

Watch for the Hayseed street parade, the funniest on the road, next Friday. It is better than a circus parade. Concert at 7 o'clock in front of the opera house by the famous Pughtown band.

Miss CALLIE HORTON, an accomplished type and shorthand writer, is desirous of teaching a class in those useful and money getting vocations and will be glad to have those who wish to learn them call on her at her office on Lancaster street, for terms, &c. She will also do typewriting at reasonable rates.

AFTER months of effort, Postmaster Ront has succeeded in getting the K. O. mail brought here on the 4:30 p. m. train, instead of having it lie over at Rowland all night and to send it out in the morning in place of at night as heretofore. Matter deposited before 7 a. m. will leave on the 7:10 train. The service began yesterday.

THE "laying on of hands" is recommended as the quickest and surest cure for the cigarette habit. The Catlettsburg Democrat says one dose cured a boy there. His mother laid her left hand on the boy's neck, her right hand on a substantial slipper, and then laid the slipper where it would do the most good. It effected a cure and a relapse is not looked for.

Mrs. NANNIE SAFFLEY chaperoned the following young people to the knolls in search of chestnuts Saturday: Misses Mary Bruce, Kate and Fannie Alcorn, Pearl Burnside, Josephine Reid, Dell Sandley, Stella Ballou, Lizzie and Mary Helm, and Caswell and Shelton. Mr. Harry Higgins and Julian Bonn. Mr. R. C. Engelman, Sr., went along and acted as conductor and driver.

The entertainment given by Dr. W. D. Tardiff's school at Walton's Opera House Friday night was a most creditable one. The participants had been thoroughly drilled and performed their parts with precision and excellence. The chorus singing, declamations, the farce comedy and the marches by 16 young girls in costume carrying swords and cymbals were all well done and the surprise was great that they were able to do so well. A number of white people attended and were given especially reserved seats. The colored people who filled the rest of the house were on their best behavior and we can say that no more orderly and decorous crowd has ever attended a performance in the hall.

A LARGE crowd gathered at Rowland Saturday night to hear speeches by Hon. Ben Lee Hardin, R. C. Warren and J. S. Owsley, Jr. Each of the gentlemen did well and their speeches will have a telling effect at the polls on Nov. 5th. Like his brother, the democratic nominee for governor, Mr. Hardin is a fine speaker. Thoroughly conversant with the existing state of affairs he pictured Kentucky as it is now and as it will be should the republicans gain power. Facts and figures are usually tiresome in public speeches, but Mr. Hardin interspersed that portion with amusing anecdotes, that he knows so well how to tell, and his effort was enjoyable from beginning to end. The Stanford people who attended the speaking marched down headed by the Stanford band, which furnished excellent music for the occasion. Mr. Hardin is certain of democratic victory and thinks the majority will be at least 25,000. He figures that every Congressional district with the exception of the 5th and 11th will give democratic majorities. The 5th, he thinks will be an offset and the 11th will go republican by 12,000.

WINTER oats and timothy seed. W. H. Wearan & Co.

A BRANDY warehouse is being put up by order Collector Rodas at Somerset, 26 x 40 feet to store the brandy made in this, Wayne and Pulaski counties.

Mr. M. F. NORTH will speak at Neal's creek school house Friday night, next, and as Mr. King has promised to be there also, oratory will be on tap till you can't repose. A big crowd will be there to hear Mr. North discuss the issues and to hear Mr. King tell why he votes for negroes.

COL. W. G. WELCH has filed a statement of his assets and liabilities, which foots up $43,070 and $23,895, respectively. Most of the latter are secured by liens and if the property bring its stated value every thing will be paid in full, leaving a considerable nest egg. J. C. Gooch's assets are stated at $3,929, liabilities not given.

ALL that is necessary to elect the democratic ticket in this county is for every democrat to go to the polls. Lincoln county is democratic and the republicans have but one hope and that is in the stay-at-home, lethargy-stricken members of our party. Let every man who loves good government do his duty at the polls this year and the republicans will be given a lesson that they will remember for years to come. Now is the time to redeem the county. We can do it and we must do it.

WON HIS FIRST CASE.—Thomas M. Owsley, Esq., has had his first case in court and he cleared his man too, by the Eternals. Friday he went to Kingsville and defended Price Buckner for shooting into the man's house, whom he with others was treating to a charivari. The case was heard before Squire A. G. Faulkner, who in the absence of the attorney acted also as prosecutor. To have acquitted his man under such adverse circumstances is quite a feather in his cap. His speech is said to have awakened all the babies in the neighborhood and is still making the welkin ring and reverberating through the mountains. The report that he got a quart of chestnuts for his fee is not confirmed and is doubtless the invention of his tantalizing cousin, Will Shanks.

THE L. & N. will sell tickets at half fare till the 25th inclusive, good to return till the 26th, on account of the Fair & Driving Association. J. S. Rice.

JUDGE DAVISON's fulmination has been forged, but it is not such a terrible document after all. What it lacks in quality, however, it makes up in quantity, for it is as large or larger than one page of this paper. There are many statements in it that can be easily controverted, but as it is in answer to Mr. G. B. Cooper's card, we will await that gentleman's response before further comment. Mr. Cooper is in bed now, but we can promise that it won't be many days before he is heard from.

BARNES.—The week of eloquent presentations of the glorious gospel of God in Love and Nothing Else is past and Rev. George O. Barnes, Miss Marie and the little organ have gone, leaving sadness over their departure, and a warmer place in the hearts of all who love to hear the matchless oratory of a consecrated man and the heavenly music of a woman who has devoted her life to the service of the Lord. The series of sermons were the finest ever delivered here and brought additional hope to those who are oppressed of the devil in these low grounds of sin and sorrow. Mr. B.'s last words were an exhortation to the friends of his old home to pray to escape Jeal, that is the disembodied state, wherein spirit, soul and body are separated to be resurrected at the judgment, but instead when the dissolution occurs here, that reconstruction will immediately begin in the house not made with hands. Promising to come again to minister unto us, if the Lord will, and expressing his gratitude for having been so strongly upheld by prayers of the righteous and goodness of God while here, he sat down amid a most solemn hush, broken only by the sobs of those who could not restrain their feelings. Miss Marie then sang, "God be with you till we meet again," sweeter than that sweet song was ever sung before, and the meeting was over. The good evangelist and daughter left yesterday for Lexington, where they will preach and sing two days, then to Frankfort for the same length of time, thence to Louisville and then to Taylorville, where they begin next Sunday for a week.
